Crop Reduction Program Signup Extended

The general signup period for the USDA's Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) has been extended for one week. The new signup deadline is Friday, April 23rd.

CRP is a voluntary program available to agriculture producers to help them use environmentally sensitive land for conservation benefits. In the 25 years of the CRP program in Nebraska, over a million acres of land has been enrolled in the USDA conservation program.

Contact your local Farm Service Agency service Center for more information regarding CRP.
