Robinson Man Sentenced to Prison on Drug Charges

A Robinson man has been sentenced to 2 ½ years prison on a pair of felony drug charges.

Timothy Manis was recently sentenced in Brown County District Court to 30 months in prison on a charge of possession of methamphetamine and to 11 months in prison on a charge of possession of marijuana.

The sentences are to run concurrently or at the same time.

Manis pleaded no contest to the charges in March. As part of a plea deal, two misdemeanor counts were dismissed.

He was arrested last November on the charges.
