

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=23960>

Two Killed in Fiery Southeast Neb Crash

(KTNC) - Authorities believe alcohol may have contributed to a fiery crash in southeast Nebraska that killed two people.

Forty-one year-old Terry Hasty of Pawnee City and 33-year-old Amanda Hernandez of Tecumseh were both killed in the crash Saturday in Tecumseh.

The Johnson County Attorney's office says Hasty was speeding along Broadway at speeds over 80 mph when the accident happened.

The 2005 Ford Expedition Hasty was driving hit several mailboxes and struck a tree before catching fire.

Sheriff Scott Walton says alcohol was a factor in the crash.

MSC News