

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=26335>

Possible Connected Thefts Leave Atchison Police Searching

(KAIR)--A second Atchison burglary, in the same neighborhood, focused on the same type of items, just days apart, leave police believing the possibility that a serial burglar could be on the loose.

Police Chief Mike Wilson says the latest case, occurring in the 900 block of North 10th Street, was reported Thursday, with the 46-year-old victim suffering a loss of around $5,600.

Among the items taken were jewelry and electronics.

Wilson says the burglar forced open a door to gain entrance to the residence sometime during the day on Thursday.

Leads are being followed, but so far no definite suspects have emerged.

Many Signals Communication