

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=26986>

Boil Water Advisory Lifted for Hoyt

(KNZA) --A boil water advisory has been lifted for city of Hoyt.

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment issued the advisory Wednesday morning after the city experienced a loss of pressure in their water system due to a storage tank drawdown.

KDHE says laboratory testing of water samples collected indicates no evidence of contamination.

As a result, Hoyt customers no longer need to boil the water they use for drinking or food preparation.

Many Signals Communications