Atchison Library Burglarized

(KAIR)--Atchison police are investigating a burglary at the Atchison library.

According to Police Chief Mike Wilson, entry was made into the building by breaking a window sometime Sunday night after the library had closed. Wilson says the only thing that appears to have been stolen is a small amount of cash from one of the offices.

Police don't yet have any definite details on who the suspect or suspects may be, but are in the process of tracking several leads.
