Severe Weather Possible Monday

(MSC News)--A round of severe weather pounded the local region Saturday, bringing strong winds, torrential rains and large hail.

No major damage has been reported locally, but it's another story for a northwestern Missouri community.

The Ray County town of Orrick was struck by a tornado early Saturday evening.

KQ2-TV reports that damage is reported to homes, trees and buildings, but no serious injuries are reported.

The touchdown happened around 5:30.

Another round of severe weather is possible locally during the early morning hours of Monday.
