

Rural Jackson Co home destroyed by fire

(KNZA)--A rural Jackson County home is being listed as a total loss following a fire late Wednesday night.

Jackson County Sheriff Tim Morse says the Sheriff's Office received a report at 11:15 of a fire that was later found to be at a residence at 12170 X Road in the southeastern portion of the county.

Morse says the house was fully engulfed when fire crews arrived on scene,

He says it was determined that no people or pets were inside the home at the time of the fire.

The occupants are Louis and Christina Williams and 3 children.

The fire was brought under control shortly before 12:30 Thursday morning.

The cause of the fire remains under investigation.

Responding to the scene were fire departments from Hoyt, Mayetta, Prairie Band Potawatomi Nation and Rock Creek Township along with Jackson County EMS and Sheriff's Office.
