

Sabetha business to be recognized

(KNZA)--A Sabetha business is among 17 small businesses that will be recognized by the Kansas Small Business Development Center during an awards ceremony March 13th in Topeka.

NorthWind Technical Services, owned by Marlene and Mike Bosworth, will be recognized as an “ Exporting Business of the Year.”

The company has more than 35 employees and provides process automation services, industrial control panel fabrication and engineering services to clients throughout the United States and around the world.

Awards recognizing existing, emerging and exporting businesses of the year will be presented.

Each of the eight Kansas SBDC regional centers selected businesses for the awards.

The businesses were selected from more than 24-hundred businesses that received one-on-one business advising services in 2017 from the Kansas Small Business Development Center.

Kansas SBDC state director Greg Panichello says collectively the Kansas SBDC team believes the 17 small businesses selected for recognition are excellent examples of small businesses that have learned to adapt and succeed in challenging times.

The Kansas Small Business Development Center is a statewide advising, consulting and training service for small businesses funded by federal, state and local partners.
