

KS/NE crimes spark fugitive search

(MSC News)--Nebraska authorities are searching for two fugitives linked to an ongoing Atchison County, Kansas investigation.

That follows the theft of a vehicle on the night of March 31 from a residence located on Bourbon Road, in Atchison County.

Atchison County Sheriff Jack Laurie told MSC News the theft followed a burglary, and is also connected to the alleged arson of another stolen vehicle found wrecked and on fire, not far from the burglarized residence, that same night.

According to a news release from the Richardson County, Nebraska Sheriff's Office, the car stolen from the residence was involved in a pursuit Monday in the area of Salem, Nebraska.

The driver of the stolen car is identified as 20-year-old Braiden Guido.

According to the release, the pursuit began when a Deputy attempted to stop the car as part of a search for a wanted felon, identified as Michael Tinsley.

During the pursuit, it's alleged that another vehicle, driven by 19-year-old Gabrielle Guido, began to chase the Deputy.

The pursuit was terminated in the Salem Cemetery when Braiden Guido allegedly drove through a cemetery fence, across a snow covered pasture and then through another fence.

The release says Gabrielle Guido lost control of her vehicle in the cemetery and came to a stop on top of a small tree, narrowly missing the patrol vehicle.

She was arrested for willful reckless driving, minor in possession of alcohol and open alcohol container.

Braiden Guido is described as a white male, with hazel eyes, who stands 6'3" and weighs around 190 pounds.

Michael Tinsley is described as a white male who stands 5'9" and weighs 190 pounds with brown hair and brown eyes.

The release says both should be considered armed and dangerous.

Anyone with information about their whereabouts should notify authorities immediately.

An Overland Park, Kansas woman is in custody in Atchison County in connection with the alleged crimes committed in that location.

📷 Gabrielle Guido/Credit: Richardson Co Sheriff's Office

Many Signals Communicatons