Hiawatha commissioner running as write-in (KNZA)-Hiawatha City Commissioner David Middendorf is running as a write-in candidate for election to the position he was appointed to in July.

The Brown County Clerk's Office says Middendorf filed the required paperwork this week to run as a write-in candidate for commissioner of finance.

Also running for the position are John Merchant, Jr. and Matt Haws.

Middendorf was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Bill Collins after he was appointed interim mayor following the resignation of Dr. Steffen Shamburg.

Both the positions of commissioner of finance and mayor are up for election during the November 6 general election. Collins is running unopposed for mayor.
