

Falls City School Board to discuss improvements

(KLZA)-- The Falls City Board of Education has planned a facility planning workshop for January to discuss facility improvements.

Board members will meet January 14 with architects from BVH Architecture to review master plan drawings and discuss initial ideas for facility improvements at Falls City High School.

The meeting will help narrow the options District 56 will consider and establish a preliminary timeline for estimates as well as options.

Board members also approved the 2017-18 audit report presented by Julie Bauman, CPA.

A teacher employment contract for Pam Joy to .40 FTE was approved. Joy will lead and facilitate the school district's visual impairment instructional program beginning January 2. Ginger Feek will serve in the capacity of long-term substitute teacher in the Special Education department beginning in January.
