

Updated: Brown Co Sheriff verifies company that caused concern

Editor's note: Brown County Sheriff John Merchant Tuesday verified the company as Washington National Insurance, after speaking in-person with a representative.

Saying that they are credible, and having collected verifiable information, Merchant said the company is working to make sure any other concerns are addressed, and are operating properly.

(KNZA)--Concerns are being voiced by the Brown County Sheriff following the report of unverified salespersons operating in the local area.

Sheriff John Merchant Monday told MSC News the insurance sales have been reported in the Powhattan area; and while it's not a legal requirement that such sales are registered with his office, he said the failure to do so causes him concern, as the common approach is for his office to be made aware prior to such business being conducted.

Brian Hagen talked to Merchant, who encourages the public to call his office if approached at 785-742-7125.
