

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=66628>

Former bank teller sentenced for embezzlement

(KAIR)--A former Leavenworth bank teller, who pleaded guilty to embezzlement, has been sentenced.

According to the office of U.S. Attorney Stephen McAllister, Theresa Williams Monday was sentenced to two years on federal supervised release.

She pleaded guilty in December of last year to one count of theft by a bank employee, admitting that she embezzled $13,000 from Mutual Savings Association in Leavenworth.

To cover up her crimes, Williams made false entries in bank reports.

According to a release from McAllister's office, Williams has paid back the money.

Many Signals Communications