Dr Aaron Schaffer, DVM with Apogee Animal Health will present “Turning a Profit with Records Based Management” on March 25th at 7 pm. The program will take place at the Glacial Hills meeting room at 913 Dakota in Sabetha.

Dr Schaffer grew up on a Dairy farm in central Illinois. He attended KSU Vet School and graduated in 2015, where he met his wife Amy, who is also a veterinarian. They moved to Morrill Kansas where they established Apogee Animal Health, Inc. a mobile veterinary practice, that focuses on food animal service work. In August of 2018 they opened a retail store in Sabetha for animal health products and supplies.

This meeting is open to the public, anyone with interest is invited to attend.
