

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=70109>

Crop filing deadline approaching

(KLZA)-- The U.S. Department of Agriculture Farm Service Agency is reminding producers to complete crop acreage reports by the July 15, deadline.

The deadline applies to common spring-planted crops as well as hay and Conservation Reserve Program acres. To make sure you are eligible for many USDA programs, you need to file an accurate crop acreage report by the deadline.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, producers should call ahead and schedule an appointments. Offices are using a variety of tools to receive completed maps and other documents, including drop boxes, mail, email or through commercially available free and secure online tools.

For more information, contact your local FSA office.

Many Signals Communications