USD 115 board elects new leadership

(KMZA)--The Nemaha Central USD 115 Board of Education has elected new leadership.

That came when the board held their annual organizational last week.

Owen Zinke was elected as board president and Amy Sudbeck as vice-president.

In other business, the board approved the 2023-24 school calendar as presented. The first day of school will be August 17 and the last day of school will be May 16. Spring break will be March 11-15.

The Board approved contract extensions for the district's administrators for an additional year through June 2025.

In addition, the board approved a policy for the emergency use of the nasal spray medication Narcan in case of an opioid overdose.
