Public meeting set on Nemaha Co burn ban resolution

(KMZA)--A public meeting has set regarding a potential new resolution that would implement burn bans in Nemaha County during Red Flag Warnings issued by the National Weather Service.

The meeting will take place at 7:00 Wednesday evening, January 10, in the Courtroom at the Nemaha County Courthouse in Seneca.

Nemaha County Emergency Management Director Eddie Aldrine said leaders of county fire departments and representatives of the Kansas Forestry Service have asked that the resolution be considered.

Eldrine said the he and the Board of County Commissioners want to be transparent about the new resolution and would like to get the public- thoughts on the matter.
