

Woman arrested in Jackson Co on felony charges

(KNZA)--Attempted bribery, along with felony drug charges, are among those now faced by a Topeka woman following a weekend, Jackson County traffic stop.

Sheriff Tim Morse, in a release, says a deputy stopped a Dodge pickup truck, around 1:30 Saturday afternoon, on 134th Road, east of U.S. Highway 75, for an unspecified traffic infraction.

During the stop, a Sheriff's Office K-9 "alerted to the presence of illegal substances inside the vehicle," with a search resulting in the seizure of alleged methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia.

Arrested was 32-year-old Haley Slusser, a passenger in the pickup. She was taken into custody on felony charges of possession of methamphetamine, attempted bribery, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Following her arrest, Slusser was booked into the Jackson County Jail.

The name of the driver has not been made public, as they apparently face no charges. Details regarding what led to the attempted bribery charge aren't immediately released.
