Three Hiawatha Residents To Stand Trial On Drug Charges

Three rural Hiawatha residents will stand trial on drug charges.

35-year-old Cara Perry, 40-year-old Charles “ Chip” Shelley, and 44-year-old Nadia Negretti waived their preliminary hearings this week and were bound over to Brown County District Court for arraignment on March 5th.

All three are charged with two counts of distribution of drug precursor and one count of possession of methamphetamine.

The trio were arrested in early December after the Brown County Sheriff’s Department, with the assistance of the Sac and Fox Tribal Police Department, served a search warrant on a residence at 1631 250th Street.
