

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=8889>

Immigration, Medicaid, Facing KS House

More things are starting to filter down to the floor of the Kansas Legislature.

This week there, some immigration bills may hit the floor for consideration.

State representative Jerry Henry says some include bills that incentivize businesses.

(Play Audio) RT: :50

Another issue that's up for debate is a Medicaid plan constructed by Kansas Governor Sam Brownback, called KAN-CARE.

Representative Henry is concerned about rushing the legislation with a big deadline upcoming.

(Audio Continues) RT: :36

As a result, he expects a lot of debate.

(Audio Continues) RT: :50

The Cummings Democrat would like to see the program delayed from January 2013 until July 2013 if the measure passes at all.