

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=16744>

Requirements Set for Wind Turbines in Nemaha Co.

( KMZA )--Wind turbines constructed in Nemaha County ( Ks ) will now face a requirement on how close they can be located to a house or property line.

The Nemaha County Commission Monday approved a resolution drafted by County Attorney Brad Lippert establishing the setback requirements.

Under the requirements, any wind turbine built in the county must be three-thousand feet from a home and 15-hundred feet from any property lines.

The setbacks can be waived if all parties affected by the location of a proposed wind turbine sign off on it.

A group of residents concerned about a proposed wind farm in the northeastern portion of the county requested that the county establish the setback requirements.

Many Signals Communications