Labor Day Weekend Activities Planned at Indian Cave State Park

(KTNC) - Labor Day is the last holiday weekend of the summer, and a full slate of activities is planned for families at Indian Cave State Park.

Park Superintendent Kevin Holliday says one popular highlight of the weekend is the fish fry. (play audio :25 “to be at.”)

A fireworks display will follow the fish fry at 9:00 p.m. Saturday, near the St. Deroir Cemetery. Holliday says there will be other activities going on throughout the weekend. (play audio :24 “throughout the park.”)

The Pioneer Long Rifle Gun Club will also hold its rendezvous, from 9:00 a.m. till 5:00 p.m. Saturday and Sunday and from 9:00 to 1:00 on Monday. They’ll provide black powder demonstrations throughout the weekend.

For those wanting to spend the weekend, Holliday says tent camping sites are available on a first-come, first-served basis. He says the reserved camper sites are full, but half of the park’s 134 camper pads are also available on a first-come, first-served basis. A park entry permit is required to enter Indian Cave State Park.

More information is available by calling the park at 402-883-2575.
