County agrees to stabilization project

(KAIR)--The Doniphan County Commission has agreed to proceed with a stream bank stabilization project.

County road office manager Lindsay Norris informed the Commissiond December 17 about grant funds available through the Natural Resources Conservation District Office in the amount of $2,500 to stabilize a portion of the Wolf River bank along 225th Road.

The county will provide $1,875 in matching funds in the form of in-kind services, which includes labor and machinery.

The project is estimated to take two working days.
