

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=68436>

Teen dies after St. Joseph shooting

(MSC News)--Police say a 14-year-old boy who was shot in St. Joseph, Missouri earlier this month has died.

KQ2-TV reports the boy died Friday at a Kansas City hospital.

The shooting happened around 29th and Penn Streets on the afternoon of November 9.

The teen was life-flighted to Children's Mercy Hospital, in Kansas City, after the shooting.

Another 14-year-old is currently in custody in connection with the shooting. The teen was originally charged with assault, but the charge is expected to be amended.

A status hearing for the teen is scheduled for December 20.

Many Signals Communications