

Family pool pass available at Falls City Library

(KLZA)-- Falls City Council members approved an idea presented by Deputy City Clerk / Treasurer Sandra Ferris Monday night that will allow library patrons to check out a family pass to the Falls City Aquatic Center.

Ferris explained the program would allow families who can't afford to go to the pool to be able to check out the family pass at the library for three days and then return it for another family to use.

Each family would only be able to utilize the pass one time to allow more families to use it. Ferris says the program would promote usage of both the library and the aquatic center.

Mayor Shawna Bindle said she would purchase two family passes to donate the library for the program.
