

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=72426>

Pawnee County Commissioners approve tower location

(KLZA)-- Pawnee County Commissioners conducted a public hearing Tuesday to receive input from the public on a recommendation from the Pawnee County Planning Commission regarding a request for a conditional use permit for Nextlink.

Nextlink wants to place a high-speed internet tower on property owned by John Kostecka.

During a Monday meeting of the County Planning Commission, a recommendation was made to approve the conditional use permit.

Following the public hearing the Board approved the request.

Commissioners also approved writing a letter of support for a Household Hazardous Waste Collection grant for the Five Rivers RC&D.

Many Signals Communications